100% Biodegradable Bamboo

Decomposition is a slow process in which the pot begins to age and small cracks become visible. Once the pot begins decomposition you may transfer your plant with the pot into the ground. This will prevent transplant shock.

Through its decomposition, organic properties from the bamboo provide nutrients to the soil. If used indoors, these bamboo pots will begin to decompose after 3 years. If kept outdoors they will begin to decompose after 2 years. If dropped into the trash, they completely degrade within 6 months.
